Musical Theater Classes*

For our youngest students, we strive to provide them with self-confidence, focus, discipline and a love for dance by encouraging their creativity and imagination along with foundational dance technique.

Our Storybook Ballet Curriculum offers safe, effective preschool-level dance and creative movement training at developmentally appropriate levels. We focus on gross motor skills, musicality, imagination, coordination, and patterning all while having lots of fun! Monthly themes and objectives are shared with parents. Early dance, music, and movement training is great for the body and brain!

Storybook Ballet begins with a gathering/storytime before class. A Winter/Christmas showcase is held in December. Students may participate in our full-school original ballet performance held each spring. They also have an end-of-year class demonstration and gathering in May.

The Musical Theater class is an introduction to three areas: dancing, acting, and singing. Our age-appropriate syllabus uses concepts and ideas to which children can relate while making it lots of fun. Dancers will enjoy tap dancing, rhythm exercises, age appropriate jazz movement, acting games, speaking, and some song & dance. The musical selections will advance an understanding of rhythm, melody, and motion. Lots of imagination and themes are explored with a focus on fundamental dance skills, acting, expression, musicality and lots of fun!
